

Don't Be A Litter-Bug

KEEPING HARRISBURG NEAT and clean is everyone's business. These two grade school girls, Sue Melton (wearing shorts) and Connie Matthews, demonstrate the wrong way (left) and proper way to dispose of waste paper. At left, in true litter-bug style, they walk merrily along scattering paper over the sidewalk. At right they stop to stuff their paper in the waste can. There are four such containers, purchased by the city of Harrisburg and Harrisburg Lions club, placed around the square. Today was the first of three special "clean-up, paint-up, fix-up" days in Harrisburg and now would be a good time to start using the waste containers and stop being a litter-bug. By TIMOTHEUS T.

Sycamore Man Travels 300 Miles To Attend Sale Here

THREE HUNDRED MILES. Not a great distance the way we travel these days, but quite a step to come to Harrisburg to buy something. However, 300 miles is the distance travelled by Clarence Floit of Sycamore, Ill., not long ago.

Mr. Floit read an ad in The Daily Register about the Mosby Brothers farm auction conducted by John Endsley. He came to Harrisburg, bought 135 head of feeder hogs for more than $2,000, trucked them back to Sycamore.

(We never did learn how Mr. Floit received the paper.)

WITH CLEAN-UP, PAINT-UP, FIX-UP DAYS starting today in Harrisburg, Timmo thinks it appropriate to urge everybody to take a part in the program. And regarding debris, today's the day to get your stuff out to the street so it can be hauled off Wednesday and Thursday. And if you're too late getting it out for it to be picked up, why not get it hauled out yourself rather than let it stand there for days.

In a story in yesterday's Register, a paragraph of an article by Dick Poston of Southern Illinois University entitled "Democracy Is You," was reprinted. Today this column is going to pick out some sentences from this same article:

"The appearance of a town will affect deeply its desirability as a place to live. If the very physical appearance is a reminder of decadence and thwarted ambitions, the community will tend to lose its young people even more than it would otherwise, and new families will hesitate to move in.

"The community's appearance may also tell something about the traits and attitudes of the people. Certainly a run-down looking town and countryside does not indicate pride, ambition and enterprise. Many communities do not seem to

Bernard Baruch Warns

Tax Cut Would Be 'Folly'

WASHINGTON — Financier Bernard M. Baruch warned today that a federal tax cut would be "folly" and urged labor and management to pledge a freeze on wages and prices.

The famed adviser to presidents advised the Senate Finance Committee:

"Inflation, gentlemen, is the most important economic fact of our time—the single greatest peril to our economic health."

In a prepared statement, Baruch said the road to national economic health includes these steps:

—Determining the requirements of national security and doing all that is needed to meet them."

—Barring new inflationary adventures. Foregoing tax reductions. Avoiding deficit spending."

Plan Amortization
—Strengthening the credit of government by refusing the debt on a long-term basis and planning definite amortization."

—Stopping the price-wage spiral and the abuse of credit."

Baruch said the recession "is the inevitable aftermath of a period of inflation that could at least have been mitigated, if not prevented."

"There is no cause for alarm if we will learn from our mistakes and call a halt to the practices which are responsible for this situation," the elder statesman said.

A tax reduction, said Baruch, "will increase the deficit, add to the debt, and further weaken the government's credit. To reduce revenues before our defenses are secure and our debt manageable is uneconomic and immoral."

Any new public works program to fight the recession should be placed on a self-liquidating basis, Baruch urged. Local action would be more effective than federal steps in such projects, he added. "Local governments can best survey their own situations."

"It would be an inspiring and salutary thing if the leaders of our great labor unions and businesses would jointly pledge to the President that for one year there will be no increase in wages or prices and that profit margins would at least be frozen," he said.

Baruch called for individual self-restraint in private credit. "Its excessive growth," he said, "has been one of the major factors in our present difficulties and is one of the weak links in our economic chain."

"I have often been shocked by the lengths to which banks, merchants and advertisers go to press credit upon the consumer with which to buy things they can be persuaded to want, but do not need," the financier said.

Ballot Edition Published by Register Today

The Daily Register today presents its ballot edition which contains the ballots to be voted in next Tuesday's primary election and the political advertisements of most of the candidates for county, district and state offices.

Three ballots are presented, the Republican primary ballot, the Democratic primary ballot and the ballot for election of three members of the Saline County Board of Schools Trustees, the last of which is non-political.

Only two state offices are up for election in 1958—the state treasurer and the state superintendent of public instruction.

The primaries also will make party nominations for congressman from the 25th Illinois district, state senator from the 51st Senatorial district, state representative from the 59th Representative district, county clerk, county judge, county treasurer, sheriff and county superintendent of schools.

Also in the primary the two parties will elect their state central committeemen, their representative committeemen and precinct committeemen from each of the 34 Saline county precincts.

For the first time in many years the state representative race will not be decided in the primary. In the past, three have been nominated with three to be elected in November. This year both parties will nominate two candidates with three to be elected from the four.

Ferman Fife Rites Will Be Held at Bankston

The funeral of Ferman Fife, 53, who died at his home on Harrisburg RFD 1, Bankston community, Monday, will be held in the Bankston church at a time to be announced. Rev. Paul Dann assisted by Rev. Ernest Ammon and Rev. Roy Reynolds will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery. Pallbearers will be Clifford Hamilton, Louie Cash, George Funderok, Charles Abney, Don Wathen and H. Boatright.

The body is in the care of the Gaskins funeral home and will lie in state at the family residence until the funeral.

Mr. Fife was a retired miner and a farmer having last worked at Sahara mine 7. He was born in Saline county, Jan. 2, 1900, and was the son of Thomas and Janie Fife. He was married to the former Miss Mamie Chenoweth who survives. Their daughter is Mrs. Janet Allen, Portales, N. M., and there are two grandchildren.

The Rev. Sydney Patrick New Church Of Nazarene Pastor

The Rev. Sydney Patrick has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Harrisburg Church of the Nazarene.

He succeeds Rev. Charles Scott, pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene for the past three years and who will complete his work in the Harrisburg church Easter Sunday.

Rev. Patrick, at present pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in West Plains, Mo., plans to preach his first sermon in Harrisburg Sunday, May 11. The Harrisburg pulpit will be filled by various other ministers during the time between Rev. Scott's departure and Rev. Patrick's arrival.

Rev. Patrick, 39 years of age, is a graduate of Nazarene College, Nashville, Tenn., and has held pastorates in Texas, Arkansas and Missouri.

The Patricks are a musical family. Mrs. Patrick plays the piano and accordion and Rev. Patrick and their two daughters, age 10 and 6, sing. He is a native of Bloomington, Ill.

C. O. Thomas Rites Wednesday At Eldorado

Funeral services for C. O. "Tommy" Thomas of Eldorado will be held at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. A. B. Clodfelter of the Eldorado Methodist church will be in charge. Mr. Thomas was a member of the Presbyterian church in Eldorado, but there is a vacancy in the pulpit of that church at this time.

Burial will be at the family lot in Sunset Lawn cemetery in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Thomas' sister, Mrs. Ralph Choisser, and Mr. Choisser arrived in Eldorado Monday evening from Florida to attend the services. Another of her brothers, Lt. Col. James W. Hill of Fort Bragg, N. C., is expected by plane in Evansville this afternoon. Her two other brothers are Elmer Hill of Eldorado and E. Bishop Hill of Harrisburg.

Mr. Thomas' brother, Brett, of Vermont, Ill., and his sister, Miss Nellie Thomas of Chicago, likely will not attend the services due to infirmities of age.

George Hise Rites Held at Ridgway

The funeral of George M. Hise, 22, resident of Highland Park and formerly of Ridgway, who died in an automobile accident near Newton, Ind., Friday, was held at 2 p. m. today. The Rev. Earl Vaughn officiated at the services held in the Smith and Edwards funeral home at Ridgway and burial was in the Jackson cemetery.

Clarence Payne, Harrisburg, is the half-brother of the deceased.

Return Verdict of Murder and Suicide in Double Shooting

Follows Inquest In Death of Mrs. Smith, Noble Beers

A coroner's jury last night ruled Mrs. Alpha Smith died of gunshot wounds inflicted by Noble Beers and that Beers died of a gunshot wound that was self-inflicted.

The verdict came after an inquest into their deaths, conducted by Coroner James Thornton at the court house. The two were found dead in Mrs. Smith's home at 114 West Virginia street late Friday, where Beers was a roomer. An automatic pistol was near his feet, with five shells discharged.

Mrs. Henry Mills, 47, wife of Mrs. Smith's son, told of Mrs. Smith coming to her home Monday morning and saying that Beers had kept her up with a gun all night.

"He phoned to my house and asked her to come home, that he wouldn't hurt her," Mrs. Mills testified. "He said that if she was afraid she could bring me and my husband, and if she wanted to, she could also bring a policeman."

She said when the group arrived Beers was sitting in the living room and that he asked Mrs. Smith if she really wanted him to leave.

Mrs. Mills said that when Mrs. Smith said yes, she wanted him to go, he asked "Then will you kiss me goodbye?" and Mrs. Smith said she would.

She testified that then they all got busy getting his belongings together, with Beers not saying anything to indicate he was angry.

"He acted like he was hurt, but not mad," she said.

She testified that she, her husband and Mills went to the garage that adjoins the house and started taking his belongings there to his car. In a few moments, she said, she went through the garage to the kitchen door and saw Mrs. Smith struggling with Beers, who had a pistol, that she heard Mrs. Smith cry out, "Oh no, oh no!"

"I turned and went out in the back and screamed for Henry not to go into the house and started running through the alley to call for help. I heard three shots as I ran to the grocery store, where I called police."

Son Testifies
Both Mr. and Mrs. Mills testified that they had not bothered in Mrs. Smith's business, that they were not around her much, but that she had told them she had been threatened a number of times by Beers, who wanted to marry her.

Henry Mills, 39, testified he believed Smith was reading the Bible when they came into the house. He said that after he heard shots he remained in the yard until police arrived.

City Policeman Link Rann told of finding the bodies, their positions on the floors and of finding five empty shells on the floor.

Funeral Director Rees Turner told of examining the bodies, declaring Mrs. Smith was shot in the body and the head and that one shot hit her left ear. Beers was shot in the head back of the right ear, he said, adding there were powder burns on the ear.

Harrisburg Police Chief Ross Lane read a suicide note Beers had written the day of the shootings. It was in his billfold in the clothing he was wearing at the time, Lane stated.

One of the vessels answering distress calls broadcast before the Skaubryn was abandoned was the British freighter City of Sydney.

She was first on the scene and began pulling the Skaubryn's loaded lifeboats alongside, and then hauling the survivors aboard.

The City of Sydney, heavily loaded and without passenger accommodation, left the still-flaming Skaubryn adrift in the Indian Ocean, about 10 degrees north of the Equator, and steamed for the nearest port—Aden.

The Roma, a passenger ship, was also racing to answer the Skaubryn's distress calls. The two ships met in the night and their captains agreed to transfer the survivors to the Roma, which was far better equipped with food and accommodation.

Once again, a mid-sea transfer of the 1,200 persons involved was accomplished without accident.

The Roma then set off for Aden.

Zimmerman to Preside at April Term Circuit Court; Begins April 7

Criminal Cases Set for Trial On April 14

The April term of Saline county circuit court, at which Judge Harold L. Zimmerman of Marion will preside, will convene April 7 with the empanelling of a grand jury and will reconvene April 10 for the hearing of criminal cases.

The criminal cases set for trial by State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson for April 14 are:

People vs. LeRoy Chamberlain, charged with murder;

People vs. Aaron Colson, charged with reckless homicide;

People vs. Clyde King, charged with assault with intent to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Also set for April 14 is a law suit, Independent Oil Well Fracturing Co., etc., vs. Hubert W. Woodruff.

The remainder of the docket setting consists of civil matters as follows:

Taken from Burning Liner In Indian Ocean

Unconfirmed Report Lists Only One Death in Rescue

ADEN — A dramatic double transfer at sea today saved the lives of almost 1,200 passengers and crewmen of an immigrant liner which burned in the Indian Ocean late Monday night.

An unconfirmed radio report listed only one death in the swift rescue. Other reports said there were no casualties at all.

The Italian passenger ship Roma was steaming slowly toward Aden today, carrying all 1,076 passengers and about 100 crewmen from the fire-ravaged Norwegian transport ship Skaubryn. She was expected to arrive Thursday.

The Skaubryn, carrying European migrants to Australia, was engulfed in flames when she was about 300 miles southeast of Socotra Island, off the African coast.

Her passengers and crewmen took to lifeboats and pulled away from the leaping flames on the ship.

Head for Aden

One of the vessels answering distress calls broadcast before the Skaubryn was abandoned was the British freighter City of Sydney.

She was first on the scene and began pulling the Skaubryn's loaded lifeboats alongside, and then hauling the survivors aboard.

The City of Sydney, heavily loaded and without passenger accommodation, left the still-flaming Skaubryn adrift in the Indian Ocean, about 10 degrees north of the Equator, and steamed for the nearest port—Aden.

Medical Society Auxiliary Elects New Officers Monday

The Women's Auxiliary of the Saline, Pope and Hardin County Medical Society met in the home of Mrs. Robert Ferrell, Raleigh road, Monday evening. Officers were elected at the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Dale Cavaness of Eldorado.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year were: Mrs. Frank Skaggs, president; Mrs. Warren Tuttle, vice president; Mrs. G. R. Johnson, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. D. A. Lehman, historian.

It was guest night and the program included the showing of three films endorsed by the American Medical Association and of particular interest to the public. The first was "Whitehall 4-1500," which is the telephone number of the A.M.A. in Chicago and showed the numerous departments of the association and how they serve the community in work essential to the health and welfare of the nation.

The second film was "On Impact," and carried safety instructions for use on the highways. It also showed the role played by the automobile manufacturers and the medical profession in promoting safety and the saving of lives in automobile accidents.

The third film, "Mr. Findley's Feelings," took up the question of emotional illness in an unusual presentation released by an insurance company.

Following the program refreshments were served to the members and their guests.

Easter Banquet Held By McKinley Intermediates

The Ruth Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, met in the church dining room recently for a special Easter program.

Each girl invited a guest, and the pastor and department superintendent were special guests.

The dinner prepared by the class and its teacher, consisted of baked ham, cinnamon apples, potato salad, baked beans, hot rolls, pie, and iced tea, was served buffet style from a table centered with a large bunny rabbit, watching over a nest of gaily colored eggs and baby bunnies.

The banquet table was covered with white and a floral arrangement of yellow jonquils and greenery was arranged beneath a silver cross. Individual programs and favors carried out the theme of Easter.

Mrs. Norman Pickford, department superintendent, gave the invocation, and following the dinner an hour of recreation was enjoyed.

The closing meditation was given by Rev. Dan Stone. A challenge was given each to play the game of life with the high ideals that the Cross represents. The class has attained the standard of excellence for the first half of the present church year.

Others present were: Mrs. Kenneth Smith, class teacher, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Dan Stone, Donna Hetterscheldt, Linda Lyon, Rita Blackman, Regenia Rice, Judy Lane, Earlene Bristow, Mary Lou Loucks, Joe Gaul, Larry Lyon, Sonny Pearcey, and Terry Irvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pavelonis and infant son, Joel, are guests of Mr. Pavelonis' mother, Mrs. Alice Pavelonis, 28 West Virginia, Harrisburg. They arrived Saturday and will visit through Easter Sunday, before returning to their home in Bushnell.

Steffey Upholds Farm Bill Veto

CHICAGO — Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois Agricultural Assn., says he believes a majority of state farmers agreed with President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill.

Steffey said Monday he hoped Congress "will now attempt to work out a long-term farm program which will protect farmers against disastrous price levels with only minimum government regulation and control."

Eisenhower Monday vetoed a measure which would have frozen price supports and acreage allotments at 1957 levels.

Steffey, whose organization claims to represent 192,000 Illinois farm families, said the bill would have postponed a decision on a long-term farm program while surpluses continued to build up in government storage.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Andrew Hazley Sr., who passed away 4 years ago, April 1, 1954: Our hearts have known many a sorrow,
Our eyes have shed many a tear,
Only God knows how we have missed him.
At the end of four long years,
Sadly missed by wife, sons, daughters and their families. 232-1

U. S. Declined to Halt Tests To Perfect Clean Bombs: Dulles

Decision Made
By Ike and Advisors
About 10 Days Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles disclosed today that the United States recently decided against halting nuclear tests so it could perfect development of small "clean" nuclear weapons.

He said the decision was made at a meeting of President Eisenhower and his top advisers about 10 days ago.

Dulles, at his weekly news conference, also denounced as pure propaganda Russia's announcement that it is halting nuclear testing on its own without an international agreement providing for inspection.

Dulles said the United States foresaw that Russia would make such an announcement immediately after concluding its most recent intensive series of nuclear tests. He said Russia naturally would have had to halt her testing temporarily anyway before she could embark on a new series.

Weighted All Facts

Dulles said the President and his principal advisers sat down and surveyed the situation. He said the question was whether the United States should try to steal the march from the Russians by announcing that the United States was temporarily suspending tests of her own.

He said the President and his advisers weighed all the facts and decided it would be basically unsound not to go ahead with American testing. Dulles said the group decided the administration could not live up to its responsibilities to the American people and perhaps humanity itself and halt a program, which it believes to be sound, merely to wage propaganda.

The House Armed Services Committee today approved a Navy plan to use five ships and eight barges as targets in testing potent new atomic weapons in the forthcoming Pacific tests. Rear Adm. A. G. Mumma, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, said the vessels will be used to check the effects of newly developed, ship-borne atomic weapons which will be exploded under water. He said the weapons tests will be conducted this spring.

Dulles said the United States always has been willing to halt testing as part of a program which would lead to elimination of nuclear weapons from the arsenals of all nations. But no cheat-proof agreement on this has been reached. So the United States decided to go ahead and develop "clean" small weapons that could be used for tactical purposes without the mass destruction of huge "dirty" H-bombs.

He stressed that the United States prefers the elimination of nuclear weapons through an international agreement.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called on Russia to discuss its offer to halt nuclear tests. He noted that the West has long sought a disarmament agreement, including suspension of nuclear tests with proper safeguards.

Dulles said no thought is being given now to calling off the U. S. tests in the Pacific.

Dulles said the United States never intends to start a nuclear attack. But he said if the United States is attacked with nuclear weapons it will respond in kind. He said if the attacker used small nuclear weapons and the United States had similar ones it would respond with those.

See Congress Inquiry Into Army Cut Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Booming guns of the National Guard Assn. seemed likely today to bring on a congressional inquiry into Army plans for wiping out 10 reserve divisions and hundreds of smaller reserve units.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) of a House Armed Services subcommittee said his group "undoubtedly" will look into the Army plan if opposition develops among state governors. He said if the Army has a "good explanation" it will find governors "willing to go along in most instances if not all." They would resist an "arbitrary plan," he added.

The National Guard Assn. assailed the reorganization plan as one that would "gravely weaken" the national defense and the National Guard.

The attack was leveled by Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison Jr., president of the association and also adjutant general of the state of Massachusetts.

The Army announced its plan for "modernization" and reorganization of its reserves Monday. Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said it would take 30 months to carry out and urged the state governors in personal letters to "lend your support."

Under the plan 10 infantry divisions would be eliminated — 6 from the National Guard and 4 from the U. S. Army Reserve. That would leave 21 Guard divisions and 6 in the Army Reserve.

Believe Girl Taken by Father

ATWOOD, Kan. (AP)—Police in at least four states today sought a 10-year-old girl allegedly spirited away by her father as he stood on the steps of a schoolhouse here.

Special alerts were issued at East St. Louis, Ill., where the father, Clarence E. Powers, 32, was living, and at Hannibal, Mo., and Quincy, Ill., where he has relatives.

A kidnapping warrant was sworn out Monday.

Officers said Powers Monday called his daughter, Betty Jean, 10, to his car. The girl got in the car and Powers drove off, police said. The child's parents had been separated and her mother died two years ago after remarrying.

The girl had been living here with an aunt, Mrs. Arden Hale, and said the girl was all right. The telegram was sent from Arapahoe, Neb., about 80 miles northeast. Powers said he would contact Mrs. Hale again in a few days.

The Norwegian owners of the Skaubryn, the Oslo firm of I. M. Skaugen, said the fire presumably started in the engine room and spread to the oil bunkers. They said the passenger accommodations were equipped with modern fire-fighting equipment and painted with fireproof paint.

Supreme Court Rejects Appeals by Connelly, Caudle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court refused Monday to review the appeals of two former administration officials convicted of conspiring to fix a tax case.

The two men are Matthew J. Connelly, one-time White House aide of former President Truman, and T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division.

The high court turned down their appeals in a brief order without a written opinion. But Justice William O. Douglas said he would have granted their plea to review the case. Justice Tom C. Clark and Charles E. Whittaker took no part in the court's decision.

The higher court's order means that Connelly and Caudle will be ordered soon to begin serving the two-year jail sentence imposed on them a year ago. They were also fined $2,500 each.

Jack Brown Receives CIPS Employee Award

JACK BROWN

Jack Brown of Muddy, substitution operator at Central Illinois Public Service company's Muddy substation, was awarded $100 for submitting the second best suggestion in 1957 under the company's employee suggestion plan. His suggestion recommended that load dispatchers instruct the line foreman, or other person involved, to ground a line before beginning work on it.

Arthur O. Clemens, machinist at CIPS' Grand Tower Power station, took first place honors.

As a result of Brown's suggestion, standardized instructions are being issued throughout the CIPS service area with reference to grounding dead lines, checking horn gaps and blades and whether or not circuits carried on the same poles with the dead circuit are energized.

The sentence, "Ground the dead line," has been a Safety Rule provision for many years. Adding the phrase to the load dispatchers order serves as additional precaution by reminding the worker that all lines must be grounded before work is started.

A native of Marion, Brown joined CIPS as an electrician at the Muddy Power Station in 1941. He has been in his present position since the Muddy Power Station was dismantled.

He is married to the former Venita Cummins of Harrisburg. They have two children, Allen, 7, and Jacqueline, 3. Brown served in the Navy from 1943-45. His hobbies include fishing and squirrel hunting.

Colombian, Believed World's Oldest Man, Dies

MONTERIA, Colombia (AP)—Javier Pereira, who may have been the world's oldest man, died at an estimated age of 168 Monday in this north Colombian cowtown, which he had left only once in his life.

Pereira fell ill two weeks ago and was taken to the Monteria hospital. He became very weak Saturday, and had to be fed intravenously.

The aged Colombian, a wiry little man of Indian extraction, spent a few weeks in the United States in 1956 under observation by doctors interested in his advanced age. U. S. physicians agreed that he could be more than 150 years old.

Pereira retained his faculties to the end, cracking jokes and flirting with women visitors.

He had flirted with virtually every pretty woman he saw during his 1956 visit to New York, but he also managed to bop one of them on the nose. The old Indian became annoyed at the lights and confusion of a news conference and began flailing wildly with his fists. When a woman reporter began posing with him for a picture, he accused her of trying to steal his ring and swung, grazing her face.

Mrs. Joseph Timmons Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Sophia Timmons, 82, widow of Joseph Timmons and resident of the Good Shepherd nursing home for the past six years, died in the Pearce hospital in Eldorado at 3 a. m. today. She is survived by her sons, Ray Timmons and Roy Timmons, Poplar Bluff, Mo., Ira Timmons, St. Louis, Mo., and her daughters, Mrs. Mabel Berkbugler St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. William Anthony Long, Blanch community in Saline county.

The body will lie in state at the Rodgers funeral home in Eldorado and the funeral will be held there at 1 p. m. Thursday Rev. Wilson Rister will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Lets Off Steam

MILWAUKEE (AP)—It cost Virgil Martell $5 to let off steam.

Martell, 33, stepped from his car at an intersection, picked up a rock and smashed a red light that hadn't changed fast enough. "I don't know why," he told Judge Francis Jennings who imposed the $5 fine.

AFL-CIO Asks Congress to Pass Democratic Jobless Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO urged Congress today to enact a Democratic bill providing a flat maximum of 39 weeks of unemployment compensation for jobless Americans at rates higher than those now prevailing.

It also called for two new types of unemployment pay:

Federal recovery benefits: These would be payments in direct federal funds to those out of work who are not covered by the existing federal-state unemployment compensation program. The rates would be similar to that program's.

Federal grants for public assistance: This would involve federal aid to states for relief-type payments to jobless workers whose needs cannot be adequately met by the other two programs. This aid would go mainly to the unemployed with exceptionally large families or very low incomes.

The AFL-CIO proposals were outlined in testimony prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee by Nelson Cruikshank, director of the organization's department of social security.

He endorsed legislation for re-vamping unemployment compensation benefits introduced jointly in the Senate by Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.).

This measure is more liberal than legislation proposed by President Eisenhower.

The President has proposed extending by 50 per cent the varying periods, which now range from 6 to 30 weeks, for which states pay unemployment benefits. The supplemental benefits would be paid with federal funds at existing state rates but the states eventually would have to repay the federal funds.

The Kennedy - McCarthy bill would require states, with federal assistance until July 1 of next year, to pay a flat maximum of 39 weeks of unemployment benefits.

The maximum payment would be two-thirds of the average weekly wage prevailing in the state and the minimum 50 per cent of the worker's weekly wage. The average payment under this plan would exceed the $28 per week average under existing state plans.

40 Traffic Deaths in Week

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The state Traffic Safety Division today reported a total of 40 fatalities resulted from accidents on Illinois highways in the week ended Monday, compared with 35 for the comparable week in 1957.

The division said the 40 deaths recorded during the week included two in which persons injured in earlier accidents died, one each in Douglas and Madison counties.

The remaining 38 accidents were distributed between 22 counties. They were Cook 9, Kane 6, Will 4, Logan and Montgomery 2 each, and 1 each in De Witt, Champaign, Kendall, Warren, Sangamon, Morgan, Johnson, Jefferson, Ford, St. Clair, Du Page, Peoria, Jackson, Lake, Wayne, Rock Island and Christian.

The division said the 40 deaths recorded during the week included two in which persons injured in earlier accidents died, one each in Douglas and Madison counties.

Seeks $10,000 in Circuit Court Complaint

Willie Prince has filed a circuit court complaint seeking $10,000 from Lowell Smith and Cecil Casteel.

The complaint, filed for Prince by Atty. Trafton Dennis, says that on Jan. 2 Smith, an Eldorado auto dealer, and Casteel came to his place in Wasson community and proceeded against his wishes to pull from his premises a 1947 Pontiac automobile.

The complaint charges that the auto was pulled over his right foot, that two toes were broken and one had to be amputated.

Abandon Attempt To Fire Atlas

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force abandoned an attempt to fire its seventh intercontinental Atlas missile today, just seconds before the missile was to have soared up from its launching pad.

The Air Force announced that "ignition difficulties" in one of the two small Vernier rocket engines at the base of the 5,500 mile range Atlas caused cut-off of the other engines.

NOMINATE

MAUD CURRY

Maud Curry, candidate for the nomination for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket, is qualified for the office by the experience gained as Deputy County Clerk for nine years.

Mrs. Curry is a life-long Democrat, has served the party as County Chairwoman for the past six years and as Co-Committeewoman of the 25th District.

She is a native of Eldorado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Long and her husband is Floyd Curry, who is ill and has not been able to work since 1950.

NOMINATE

MAUD CURRY for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket—she is well qualified through experience, efficient and courteous.

Nine GOP, Six Democratic

Only 15 Contests in State's 25 Congressional Districts

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The April 8 Illinois primary offers only 15 contests in the state's 25 congressional districts and only three incumbents, all Republicans, face challenges from within their own parties.

The 15 contests include nine Republican and six Democratic races. In addition the Republican nomination in the 24th District is open to write-in candidates since no candidate filed for the party's place on the November ballot.

Twenty incumbents, 10 from each party, are not opposed for renomination. One incumbent congressman is retiring and another died in office.

The three incumbents facing opposition are all downstate GOP veterans, 75-year-old Noah M. Mason of Oglesby in the 15th District, Leo E. Allen, 59, of Galena, who has represented the 16th District since 1932, and Robert B.

Chipfield, of Canton, who first went to Congress in 1938.

Chipfield vs Bailey

Mason is opposed by the same man who lost to him by a 30,000 vote margin in the primary two years ago, Daniel Palmer Mitchell, of Plano.

One of the six Democratic contests also is in the 15th District where Stanley Hubbs, Monee, and Dorothy G. O'Brien, De Kalb, are contending for the Democratic nomination.

Allen is opposed on the Republican ballot in the 16th District by John Tappe, of Rockford.

Chipfield's primary opponent is Republican John W. Bailey, of Galesburg.

Another Republican contest pits Springfield theater chain executive John D. Giachetto against Mrs. Norma Eaton, a Newton attorney, in the 21st District where Democratic incumbent Peter F. Mack Jr., Carlinville, is unopposed.

The other Republican contest downstate matches Paul C. Dorris, Carterville, against Carl D. Sneed, Marion, Williamson County state's attorney, in the 25th District.

Murphy vs Galvin in Chicago

Four GOP contests in Chicago have Dr. Theodore R. M. Howard, John E. Lewis, and James M. Burr, running in the 1st District. Theodore Wozniak against Jean nett House Frame in the 5th; Homer P. Hargrave, Marion R. Cleveland and Jack Fenyn contending in the 9th; and William F. H. Schmidt against Michael R. Fleischacker in the 8th.

In addition to the 15th District contest, Democratic races outside Chicago pit Laurence A. Kusek, Park Ridge, against James J. Lentine, Libertyville, in the 13th; Lorain C. Combe, Greenville, against George E. Shipley, Olney, in the 23rd; Dr. Carlton H. Myers, Gifford, Robert D. Borchers, Decatur, and Charles H. Kelly, Monticello, in a three-way scramble in the 22nd; and Peter J. Fieffer, Aurora, Clarence E. Josephson, Elmhurst, and Lester C. Ellis, Aurora, in an other three-way affair in the 14th.

The only Democratic race in Chicago matches William T. Murphy against John F. Galvin in the 3rd State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoff man is unopposed for the Republican nomination in the 14th District where Rep. Russell W. Keeney died.

20 Unopposed Incumbents

State Sen. Daniel Rostenkowski, Chicago, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the 8th District where Rep. Thomas S. Gordon is retiring.

The 10 Republican incumbents who have no opposition are Reps. Emmett F. Byrne, Chicago, 3rd District; William E. McVey, Harvey, 4th; Harold R. Collier, Berwyn, 10th; Timothy P. Sheehan, Chicago, 11th; Marguerite Stitt Church, Evanston, 13th; Leslie C. Arends, Melvin, 17th; Robert H. Michel, Peoria, 18th; Sid Simpson, Carrollton, 20th; William L. Springer, Champaign, 22nd; and Charles W. Vursell, Salem, 23rd.

The 10 Democratic incumbents with no opposition are Reps. William L. Dawson, 1st; Barratt O'Hara, 2nd; John C. Kluczynski, 5th; Thomas J. O'Brien, 6th; Roland V. Libonati, 7th; Sidney R. Yates, 9th; and Charles A. Boyle, 12th, all of Chicago; Mack, 21st; Melvin Price, East St. Louis, 24th; and Kenneth J. Gray, West Frankfort, 25th.

The Republicans now hold a 13-11 edge in the state's congressional delegation with one Republican vacancy caused by Keeney's death.

In 1954 you did me the honor of electing me your sheriff. I would like to be your candidate for Treasurer on the Democrat ticket.

My duties as sheriff have kept me from seeing as many of the voters as I would have liked to do so.

Subject to your will I would like to take this means of asking for your help and support. It is impossible for a man to be nominated and elected without the help and support of his friends.

As your Sheriff I have served the people of Saline County without prejudice and regardless of political affiliation, race, creed or color.

I respectfully ask for your help and support in the coming election.

I have been an electrician, miner, factory worker, filling station operator, and law enforcement officer, and through those experiences I have come to know the problems of the people of our county in regard to law enforcement, and particularly the problems of parents of growing boys and girls. MY AMBITION IS TO GIVE ALL YOU PEOPLE HONEST AND SINCERE LAW ENFORCEMENT . . . I HAVE NO OUTSIDE INTEREST.

I know the needs of this county, not only in law enforcement, but in obtaining industry. I believe we should put our best foot forward, not only in the municipalities, but in the entire county. I can do little without the backing of the voters, but with their support, and the help of competent, qualified deputies representing various sections of the county, I firmly believe your county law enforcement can do much to better conditions generally in Saline County.

I intend to talk with every voter I can possibly contact, but if I miss seeing you, please give this message your consideration. If you believe as I do . . . if you think the matter over seriously and agree with me . . . then I will appreciate your vote and support.

Chicago Area Group Award To Paul Powell

Paul Powell of Vienna, Representative in the General Assembly from the 59th District, has been honored with an engraved plaque by Community Civic Leaders, a Chicago metropolitan area organization, in recognition of his services as a legislator.

The plaque inscription reads: "To Hon. Paul Powell, representing 59th district, Illinois, for his outstanding efforts in legislative work to protect all people, the aged, property owners, and the drivers on the state highways, for his honest efforts to help his community, farmers, industry and labor."

Community Civic Leaders is a group with key men representing 55 Chicago area metropolitan towns, officers being William J. Thomas of Cicero, Paul Batka of Will Springs and William Butkus of Glen Ellyn.

A letter announcing the award states: "We have had the honor of presenting an award to a statesman who, in our opinion has sponsored legislation for the betterment of the community, industry and the farmers.

"Our opinion is based on Paul Powell's record in the legislature. He has been a legislator 12 consecutive terms, being Speaker of the House during one term. He is a member of the Budgetary Commission and was voted the outstanding "legislator of Illinois" during the years 1951 and 1955 by the press. He is at present a member of the state legislature Audit Commission. He is a man whom we believe will be on the alert for irregularities in the state government.

"He has worked to protect the people against private interest; he has fought for the Mud Guard bill and to have all lobbyists on record. He has sought additional benefits for old age pensioners and all school children.

"We, the Community Civic Leaders feel that the record of Paul Powell merits recognition and have presented him with a plaque to commemorate his services to the community, farmer and industry."

Begin Charging Admission Fees At 31 State Parks

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Starting today admission fees will be charged at 31 of Illinois' state parks under a law passed by the 1957 Legislature.

The new admission fee plan calls for a fee of 10 cents per person and 10 cents per automobile at all state parks of more than 100 acres. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

The new plan also provides for a $2 season sticker which will admit a car and 11 of its occupants to any park for an entire year.

The 10 cents admission fee has been in effect at seven parks since 1953, but admission to all other parks was free.

The new admission plan will not affect state parks of less than 100 acres, the 29 state memorials of New Salem Park which the state acquired under an agreement that no admission be charged.

All money received from the admission fees must be used to improve the parks.

State Representative Races

30 Contests on Republican
Ballot; 29 by Democrats

SPRINGFIELD — Former Democratic Speaker Paul Powell and Republican Rep. Robert L. Burhans, a possible choice to become Gov. Stratton's floor leader, are involved in two of the top contests for state representative nominations in the April 8 primary.

The Republican ballot offers 30 contests for state representative nominations, 15 in Cook County and 15 downstate.

The Democrats have 29 contests, 13 in Cook County and 16 downstate.

Each party will nominate either one or two candidates in each of the 59 House districts. Three representatives are to be elected from each district in November.

Burhans, of Peoria, is in a six-way scramble for Republican nomination in the 43rd District which developed when Rep. August Grebe announced he was retiring.

Powell Has Opposition

One of those contending along with Burhans for the two Republican nominations is former Sen. Clyde C. Trager, of Peoria. Other in the race are John C. Parkhurst, Peter J. Naughton, C. Bonner Triebel and Robert G. Day all of Peoria.

Burhans has said in campaign speeches that he has been approached concerning his possibly succeeding John W. Lewis, of Marshall, as GOP floor leader in the House. Lewis is making a bid for the Senate. Stratton's office has not commented on Burhans' statements.

Powell, veteran downstate Democratic leader from Vienna in the 59th District, for many years past has been the only Democrat nominated from his district. This has assured his election in November.

But this year Powell is faced with a fight both in the primary and in the November general election. Powell has opposition from Wayman L. Welborn Jr., of Pittsburg, and K. Neil Thurmond, of Johnston City, for the two Democratic nominations.

If Powell wins one of the nominations, he still will have a race in November since two Republicans and two Democrats will be vying for the three seats.

There also is a Republican contest in the 59th District with former Sen. Homer Butler of Marion bucking incumbent C. L. McCormick, Vienna, Delmer R. Mitchell, Johnston City, and Eugene Choisser, Eldorado, for the two GOP nominations.

Both the Republicans and Democrats also have contests in the 44th District where each party has two nominations and three candidates. Dr. Edwin E. Dale, Champaign, has been aiming his campaign at unseating Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh, Champaign, in the Republican primary. Clabaugh faces trial later this month on a "conflict of interest" charge. The third Republican in the race is incumbent Ora C. Dillavou, Urbana.

Democratic incumbent Leo Pfeffer, Seymour, has opposition from Glen W. Braden, Sullivan and Louise Forester, Champaign, in the 44th District.

The 46th District offers a wide-open scramble in both parties resulting from the retirement of Reps. George Saal (D-Pekin) and Norman Shade (R-Pekin).

On the Republican side there are five candidates for the two nominations—Walter E. Hill, Canton, Rae C. Heiple, Washington, Howard S. White, Havana, Orlyn E. Botte, Washington, and Ward G. Grundy, Morton.

The four candidates for the two Democratic nominations in the 46th are incumbent C. R. Ratcliffe, Beardstown, J. Paul Madison, Table Grove, John R. Horn, Pekin, and Willis L. Stamm, East Peoria.

In the 48th District of Sangamon County, Democratic incumbent Allen T. Lucas, a nephew of former U. S. Sen. Scott W. Lucas is opposed by Joseph P. Gaffigan, Springfield, for the single Democratic nomination.

Rep. Louis E. Beckman's candidacy for state treasurer brought out a Republican contest for the two nominations in the 41st District. The three contenders are incumbent William C. Harris, Pontiac, and George E. Luehrs and Elmer C. Wilson, both of Kankakee.

In the southwest area, Democratic incumbents Lloyd (Curly) Harris, Granite City, and Paul Simon, Troy, are involved in a five-man fight for the two Democratic nominations in the 53rd District. Democratic incumbents Frank Holten, East St. Louis, and Alan J. Dixon, Belleville, are involved in a four-way fight for the two Democratic nominations in the 54th District.

9,859 Precincts For Primary

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois counties will have a total of 9,859 election precincts in the April 8 primary, 271 more than the number of precincts in the 1956 general election, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter reported today.

Carpenter said 24 counties have indicated increases in the number of precincts, while two counties indicated decreases.

Champaign lost one precinct, and Peoria County 22, Carpenter said. Counties which gained one or more precincts included Adams, Christian, Cook, DeKalb, Du Page, Jackson, Kane, Kankakee, Lake, Macon, Macoupin, Madison, Marion, Massac, McHenry, McLean, Ogle, Pike, Sangamon, Shelby, Tazewell, Wayne, Whiteside, and Winnebago.

Election Judges Have 24 Hours to Deliver Results

SPRINGFIELD — Atty. Gen. Latham Castle ruled Wednesday that election judges in primary elections have 24 hours after completion of precinct canvasses to deliver ballots and tally sheets to their county clerks.

Castle filed the formal opinion at the request of Shelby County State's Attorney John A. Yantis.

The attorney general said two conflicting pieces of legislation, concerning the time allowed to deliver the ballots, tally sheets and other election materials to the county clerks were enacted by the 1957 Legislature, one providing 12 hours, the other 24 hours.

In such a situation, Castle ruled, the law provides that the legislation last enacted would govern.

The later of the two bills passed, House Bill 634, provided 24 hours for the delivery of the election results after the completion of the precinct canvass, Castle said.

Thus the 24-hour provision is now the law, the attorney general said.

29 School Buses Operate in County; 34 Driver Permits

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Official inspection reports reveal that 29 school buses are being operated in Saline county during the current school year, according to Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction.

Records for this year also show that 34 school bus driver permits have been issued for Saline county. The excess of school bus drivers over the number of buses indicates substitute drivers, whose normal occupations may be far removed from driving. Such drivers must have full permits to operate buses similar to those for whom school bus driving is the same occupation, Nickell added.

In Saline county, 18 school districts claimed state aid for partial transportation costs for the previous year, with the claims paid last fall following claim approval by Nickell. Of these districts, nine operate their own buses, with nine districts contracting with outside carriers for school bus transportation.

Over the state, Nickell said, 5,577 school buses are operating, supported by inspection reports.

Floor Whip George E. Drach Faces Opposition in State's Top Senate Primary Race

SPRINGFIELD —The top state Senate race in the Illinois primary one week from today involves Gov. Strator's floor whip, Sen. George E. Drach, Springfield.

In the 30 Senate districts up for election this year, there are only 8 Republican contests and 6 Democratic contests in the primary. Twenty-two Republicans and 24 Democrats will be nominated without opposition.

Only 5 incumbent senators, 4 Republicans and 1 Democrat, face primary opposition. Sixteen incumbents, 9 Democrats and 7 Republicans, will be nominated without opposition.

Drach, 51, seeking his third four year term, has been Republican whip in the Senate for the past three legislative sessions. Twice he has been voted by the Illinois Legislative Correspondents Assn. as the outstanding member of the Senate.

He is opposed in the 45th District by Springfield real estate man Paul Wanless whose campaign slogan is "It's Time For A Change." Wanless has been waging a strong campaign, spending heavily on billboards and radio and television announcements.

The campaign has grown bitter with Wanless complaining that he was ejected from the State Office Building when he tried to distribute campaign materials in the cafeteria. Soliciting is prohibited on state property.

The 45th District includes Sangamon, Cass and Morgan counties.

Veteran conservative Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove, the first woman ever to serve in the Legislature, is another Republican facing a primary challenge. She will be opposed on the GOP ballot by Harris W. Fawell, Naperville. Mrs. O'Neill came to the Legislature in 1922 and served nine terms in the House before moving up to the Senate.

Another Republican facing primary opposition is Sen. Herbert M. Johnson, of Chicago's 19th District, who last session was voted the outstanding freshman senator. He is opposed by David R. Hoehn.

Lone Opposed Dem

Sen. Morris E. Muhleman, Rock Island, has two opponents in the Republican primary in the 53rd District. They are W. Don Jones, Rock Island, and Paul C. Johnson, Moline.

The lone Democrat incumbent with primary opposition is Sen. James O. Monroe, Collinsville, in the 47th District. He is opposed by Casmer W. Skubish, Granite City.

Monroe has been charged at Springfield of a violation of the conflict of interest law for selling about $50 worth of stationery to the Legislature.

The four other Republican contests match John A. Graham, Barrington, against Francis E. Kelly, Palatine, in the 3rd District; Norman R. Gibbons against Jacob P. Ellefsen, both of Chicago, in the 21st District; Chester F. Hagel against Aloysius A. Mazewski, both of Chicago, in the 29th District; and E. A. Greene, Dudley S. Martin and Clarence W. Harding, all of Chicago, in a three-way race in the 11th District.

Three other Democratic contests match Thad L. Kusibab against Leonard W. Guzall in Chicago's 33rd District; Ray Beggs of Metropolis against T. Leo Dodd of Eldorado in the 51st District; and Guy D. Seckman, Mount Sterling, Dr. Howard W. Knapp, Rushville,

Matter of FACT

The word history comes from a Greek word meaning inquiry. It was first given its modern meaning by Herodotus, an Ionian Greek. In the middle of the fifth century B.C. he wrote his "History," an inquiry into the causes of the long wars between the Greeks and the Persians. Even though he was not an accurate historian, Herodotus reconstructed a past period and made it live again.

I am still in the Race for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff!

HENRY C. DEMPSEY

I have been confined to my bed lately as a result of straining muscles around my heart while lifting a heavy object at my home.

That is the reason you have not been seeing me in my campaign for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff of Saline County.

However, I am very much improved and my doctor has told me that I may move around a little.

I am still in the race and will appreciate all words said in my behalf.

Louis E. Beckman has been an outstanding member of the Illinois House of Representatives since 1951, where he has been a leader for progressive legislation, primarily concerning revenue reform and fiscal reorganization. Since 1953, he has been Chairman of the important House Banking Committee, where he has again demonstrated his ability to work for the people's interests.

Louis E. Beckman has the ability to direct the taxpayers' dollars so that the people receive maximum benefit at the lowest possible cost. His efforts as a member of the House Appropriations Committee are proof that economies in government can be effected. He is also serving as Vice-Chairman of the Legislative Audit Commission, and has served on numerous governmental advisory committees and boards.

Louis E. Beckman is the founder of a successful real estate development company in Kankakee, and is also actively interested in insurance and farming. He has had considerable experience in the banking profession. Mr. Beckman is the son of the late Senator and Mrs. Louis E. Beckman Sr. The Beckman family has been outstanding in Kankakee business and civic life for more than a century.

LOUIS E. BECKMAN HAS AN EXCELLENT RECORD OF PUBLIC SERVICE, A BACKGROUND OF SUCCESSFUL ADMINISTRATION OF HIS OWN BUSINESS, AND A HIGH REGARD FOR THE PRINCIPLES OF GOOD GOVERNMENT. HE IS EMINENTLY QUALIFIED FOR THE OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER.

THE STORY: Detective Wintino, who is eager to solve the murder of Ed Owens, has been shunted to less important activity. He has just picked up a man he caught while attempting to pilfer a car.

I took him down to the desk and booked him, put him in a cell and phoned down to his precinct to check his address, notify his folks. Then I called BCI to find if there was a record on the guy and went back upstairs to the squad room. Reed asked, "Call downtown for a yellow sheet on this cheap slob?"

I nodded. "He was telling the truth, no record."

Reed shook his head. "These cheap cases get me angry, doing it for a few lousy bucks. Nice work, Wintino."

"A big deal, I bagged a hard up jerk on his first two-bit job," I said, thinking how we were all wasting time. I should be asking Wales about Sal Kahn.

Reed said, "You prevented a crime, that's supposed to be half our job. And there's no such animal as a 'small' crime. Suppose this punk had a knife on him and panicked when the car owner found him, it could easily have been a murder. What I like is your working by reflex, instinctively. That's being a good cop. Have lunch yet?"

"No, sir," I lied: it never hurts to build things up a little. "Speaking of instinct, I feel I should talk to Wales about—"

"Grab a sandwich, then finish the report on Owens and write up this case. Forget Wales. I called the brokerage office to check with him on that Dundus fellow. Wales hadn't shown up for work today. Must be off drowning his sorrows. Doesn't matter, I checked with the Institution. Dundus died there. What's with this Henderson nut?"

"She's a writer. She's being rough-shadowed and annoyed by phone calls to make her so jittery she won't be able to finish an article exposing some electrical companies hogging a new invention. I thought she was a crackpot till I talked to the janitor. Somebody has been trying to throw a scare into her."

"Has she any idea who's doing this?"

"No, but she thinks the men who jostled her must be private clowns hired by the electrical concerns. I told her we'd have the post cop and the radio car keep an eye on her house for any suspicious characters. And she wants an escort when she goes out this afternoon."

Reed rubbed his big nose. "Escort? I got a busy house here."

"But you see she hasn't any set hours, goes to the library whenever she has to look up stuff. I figured if we tailed her once, we'd nail the jokers who've been roughing her up. She's waiting on a call from me as to what we plan to do."

Reed stared at his hand as if he expected to see part of his nose there. "All right, if she's a writer we don't want her knocking the department. Tell her about the beat man looking in. Find out what time she'll leave her flat in the morning. I'll be able to give her a man then. It's 2:20 now. Take off after you finish your paper work. You'll have to take that car-punk to Night Court."

"My wife is going to love that," I'd forgotten about the Night Court.

"Cop's wife should expect him when she sees him," Reed said as he went into his office.

When I got Rose Henderson on the phone she blew up. "Tomorrow morning? I'm waiting now to go out shopping, not to mention some research I need."

"I'm sorry but we can't spare a man now. I told you that might happen. I checked with your super, I believe your story."

"I suppose I won't be killed going to the corner grocery. But I will see you tomorrow, about 10 then?"

"A detective will be there by 10. He'll call you first," I said, wondering how I was going to tell Mary I might not make her bridge game. I'd better call her uncle, that might cool her off.

I went out and dialed Uncle Frank. It took time for the girl who answered to find him — he was always jumping around his joint. Finally I heard him pant over the phone, "Dave?"

"Yeah. How's things, Uncle Frank?"

"Terrible, lad. Lousy truckman can't find a parking place so he takes off like a scared rabbit. Two hundred and thirty-one pieces of express freight, dress goods, miss the afternoon train. They won't get to Miami in time for Saturday's business and there'll be a kickback in my face. You downtown, Dave my boy?"

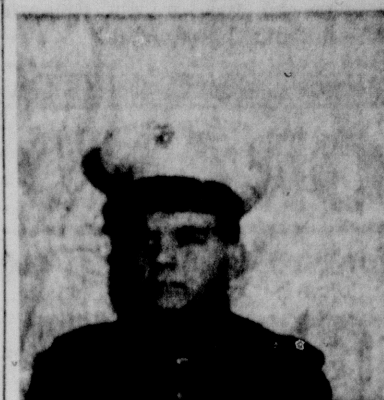

"No. Mary tells me you want to see me."

"Yes, yes. We have to have a talk. This place is getting too much for me. I'll be here till 7, maybe later. When will you be down?"

"I have to go to Night Court. But I'm off tomorrow and Friday. I'll drop in to see you then. Okay?"

"Fine. Always know where to

To the Republican Voters of Saline County

I have lived in Saline County practically all of my life and have been a coal miner most of that time. I would like to say in answer to some questions that I am not drawing a miner's pension. At present I am affiliated with L. U. No. 9939 UMW at Stonefort, Ill., and also a member of Masonic Lodge No. 325, Harrisburg, Ill.

I was born and raised a Republican and have never asked the party for any favors. I have been told we need young men in office, and in answer to that, if nominated and elected I do not intend to fight my way through. I have a different method of enforcing the law.

I am not obligated to any one person or any group of persons. I am going to try to visit every home in the county and ask for the nomination. If successful I will be very grateful but if defeated I will still be a good Republican.

In regard to my family history. I am the son of the late Ben and Margaret DeVar of Ledford, Ill. In 1913 I married Iva Irvin of Walnut Grove community. Three children were born, two dying in infancy. My only son, Harvey, with Charles Wright, owns and operates Jackson's Drug Store. In 1939 he was married to Ruth Allen, daughter of Aaron and Mary Allen of Galatia, and they have one son, Billy. Harvey's mother passed away in 1943 while he was in the South Pacific in World War II. In November 1948 I married Bernice Owens, of Galatia, widow of Frank Owens, and their only son, Lt. Harold F. Owens, lost his life in action Dec. 6, 1944.

In closing I would like to ask every Republican in Saline County to go to the polls on April 8, 1958, and help nominate a ticket that can win next fall.

Thanking you in advance,

three weeks, Sullivan at least six weeks.

Brewer, 26, was taking batting practice when hit by a Bob Porterfield pitch. Brewer suffered a hairline fracture of the middle finger on the pitching hand.

Foul Hits Sullivan

Sullivan, 27, was hit by a foul off the bat of Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators in the first inning of an exhibition game. Sullivan's right index finger was fractured and dislocated. The Red Sox were hoping that Sullivan would play well enough to replace Sammy White behind the plate.

Another catcher, Yogi Berra of the Yankees, also was put out of commission. A foul off the bat of Charley Neul of the Los Angeles Dodgers struck Berra on the right hand, split the web between two fingers and sidelined him for 7 to 10 days.

Aside from the injuries, tight pitching performances by some of the best in baseball featured the nine-game exhibition program.

Billy Pierce and Jim Wilson combined for a one-hitter as the Chicago White Sox shut out the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0. The Cards won a six inning nightcap, 7-5.

Herb Score ran his scoreless streak to 11 innings in the Cleveland Indians' 8-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Pirates Beat Braves
Lew Burdette pitched four scoreless innings for the Milwaukee Braves before the Pittsburgh Pirates got to his relievers and won, 4-3. Hank Foiles singled in the winning run in the ninth.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs blanked the Baltimore Orioles, 1-0; the Dodgers scored a 7-3 triumph over the Yankees; the Red Sox whipped the Senators, 8-3; Cincinnati Redlegs took a 2-1 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies; and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-4.

In the roster trimming department, the Dodgers optioned shortstop Bob Lillis to St. Paul and returned outfielder Felipe Montemayor and catcher Norm Sherry to Spokane. The Orioles sent Wayne Causey, a bonus infielder, to the Louisville training camp. The White Sox shipped pitcher Jim Derrington and outfielder John Callison to Indianapolis.

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—The Harlem Globetrotters, the clown princes of basketball, tried for their fourth straight victory tonight over a college all-star team that almost upset them Monday night.

The Trotters beat the All-Stars, 84-82, at Hershey, Pa., by scoring six straight points in the last two minutes.

The All-Stars moved ahead in the third period when Vern Hatton of Kentucky collected 13 points. Turmon tied the score at 75-75 in the last quarter with a hook shot. The All-Stars pulled in front, 82-78, on two field goals by Jay Norman of Temple before the Trotters touched off their winning rally.

Indians Get Doby, Ferrarese From the Orioles

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—The Cleveland Indians' management expressed confidence today that their trade with the Baltimore Orioles which netted them outfielder Larry Doby and pitcher Don Ferrarese has left their outfield "with no vulnerable spots."

Cleveland announced the trade Monday and said it had sent outfielder Gene Woodling, utility man Dick Williams and pitcher Bud Daley to the Orioles in return for the two players.

General Manager Frank Lane and Manager Bobby Bragan expressed wholehearted agreement with the swap and Bragan said: "Now we have no vulnerable spots in the outfield no matter what combination we use."

Orioles' General Manager Paul Richards sounded less ecstatic about the trade and had little more to say than, "It must have helped us or we wouldn't have made it. It gives us a little more balance."

Cousy Top Vote Getter in All-Star Selections

NEW YORK (UP)—Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman of Boston, Bob Pettit of St. Louis, George Yardley of Detroit and Dolph Schayes of Syracuse were named today to the National Basketball Association All-Star team.

Cousy, who won regular season playmaking honors, was the top

WELL ARMED—Stan Musial shows the cameraman where Ted Williams gets all that power. The veterans again led their respective leagues in batting, the peerless Cardinal for the seventh time, the Red Sox belter for the fifth. It seems that the same old players keep getting the hits.

vote getter in a poll of sports writers and broadcasters in league cities.

The second team was made up of Bill Russell of Boston, Maurice Stokes of Cincinnati, Tom Gola of Philadelphia and Cliff Hagan and Slater Martin, both of St. Louis.

3 WAYS TO SAVE WITH DIERKS Pole-Type Construction!

SAVE ON LABOR COSTS. Pole type buildings go up much faster than conventional buildings; do not require skilled labor.

SAVE ON MATERIAL COSTS. No expensive footings or foundations required; Dierks pressure-treated poles support building.

SAVE ON MAINTENANCE. Dierks pressure-treated poles have a life expectancy of many many years. Buildings stay up longer ... require less upkeep.
